CREATING SACRED SPACE @ HOME

Home altars for a very long time have been considered common in Catholic households. This sacred area serves as a central place for prayer and practice of the faith in the home. We have designated places for nourishment, rest, work, exercise, and/or play at home – why not have a designated, sacred place to pray, both individually and together as a family?

LIVING FAITH @ HOME
As a parent, your role in the faith formation of your children is vital. No one can replace you, not even the best parish programs. Your parish community and the programs they offer exist to reinforce how you live faith at home. Recent studies show that if you are actively engaged with the practice of your faith, you greatly increase the probability that your children will be, too. Here are some resources to assist with effective faith formation at home:

MEALTIME @ HOME DURING EASTER SEASON
"Over the past 20 years researchers have confirmed what parents have known for a long time: sharing a family meal is good for the spirit, the brain and the health of all family members. Recent studies link regular family dinners with many behaviors that parents pray for: lower rates of substance abuse, teen pregnancy and depression, as well as higher grade-point averages and self-esteem. Studies also indicate that dinner conversation is a more potent vocabulary-booster than reading, and the stories told around the kitchen table help our children build resilience. "To maintain a joyful family requires much from both the parents and the children. Each member of the family has to become, in a special way, the servant of the others." - St. Pope John Paul II
