What to Expect When Public Mass Resumes

As painful as the decision was to suspend all public Masses in the Archdiocese of Newark, during the COVID-19 pandemic, the process was straightforward and necessary for the common good. The specific details of when public Mass will resume and how it will be celebrated are still being determined, but the return will occur through a three-phase gradual process.

To read more details regarding this process and for the full article, click on the link above.

CELEBRATING PENTECOST @ HOME

Pentecost, with Christmas and Easter, ranks among the great feasts of Christianity. It commemorates not only the descent of the Holy Spirit upon the Apostles and Disciples (Acts 2), but also the fruits and effects of that event: the completion of the work of redemption, the fullness of grace for the Church and its children, and the gift of faith for all nations. Pentecost is not “just another Sunday,” but the second culmination, the high feast that concludes the Easter celebration. - Pentecost Sunday

CELEBRATING AND SUPPORTING DADS @ HOME

"As we celebrate Father's Day, we think of the strength of a father, his guiding hand, his wisdom, his help. In a special way, let us be grateful for our fathers, living or deceased, by birth or adoption, who love us and support us through life; our Church leaders, who take on the paternal role of guiding us through life; and God our Father, who will always teach justly and grant us boundless mercy." - Father's Day Reflections

DISCIPLESHIP @ HOME

We have a tendency to think that the parish is meant to be the center of our faith life. But that's not what Catholic theology actually teaches. In reality, the parish church exists to support the Christian life and ministerial efforts of the domestic church—the family. The parish is meant to feed the life of the domestic church and empower it for ministry and witness in the world. It's the Catholic home—not the parish or the parish school—that is meant to be the crucible of intentional discipleship and primary outpost of evangelization and positive social change. - The Parish Exists To Support the Family
